The "Requested Value" will be optional but you can still enter a value if you know what the Popout should be.

The "Tag" column is optional to help group types or reasons for change requests. For example, you can enter "blocked" as a tag.

The "Note" column is mandatory for any type of request. You must provide information about your request for the approval team.
